

AGREEMENT

Use of Data for the IOT Data Hackathon 2025

Participants are required to follow the below rules and guidelines for the purpose of regulating the use of data during the IOT Data Hackathon 2025 ("Hackathon").

1. The datasets to be used in the Hackathon, includes open data, challenge statement providers' data and any other data used by the Participants. The collection, use, disclosure and security protection of such data should strictly comply with the relevant data protection law in Hong Kong, including Personal Data (Privacy) Ordinance with particular reference to its data protection principles.
2. The use of the data provided by the organiser and the challenge statement providers ("Dataset Owners") are strictly limited to the Hackathon. Participants are not permitted to use such data for any other purpose.
3. The Dataset Owners retain ownership of the datasets at all times. Participants are strictly prohibited from copying or infringing upon any intellectual property rights that the Dataset Owners may hold for the datasets, whether in whole or in part.
4. Participants agree not to disclose any confidential information obtained during the hackathon to third parties.
5. Participants shall take all necessary measures to ensure the security and confidentiality of the data they are provided access to during the Hackathon.
6. Upon completion of the Hackathon, Participants must immediately cease using the data provided by the Dataset Owners. Participants are required to provide a confirmation in writing that all data has been permanently erased or destroyed.
7. The organiser does not provide any warranty that the datasets are free of errors. The organiser shall not be held liable for any loss or damage suffered by Participants resulting from the use of the datasets.
8. The organiser has no obligation to check that the participants' use of the data is authorised and legal, or that such use has not infringed any intellectual property rights, and shall not be liable for unauthorised, illegal and/or infringing use by the participants, if any.

By participating in the hackathon, Participants agree to abide by the rules and guidelines set forth in this Agreement, any violation may result in disqualification from the Hackathon or legal consequences.
